

Song for a Winters Night – Gordon Lightfoot

1            5            6m            4            1            5            1            5

The lamp is burnin' low upon my table top. The snow is softly falling.

1            5            6m            4            1            5            1

The air is still within the silence of my room. I hear your voice softly calling.

1            5    4            5            3m            6m    2m            5

If I could only have you near, to breathe a sigh or two,

1            5            6m            4    1            5                            1    5

I would be happy just to hold the hands I love, on this winter's night with you.

1            5            6m            4    1            5            1            5

The smoke is rising in the shadows overhead, my glass is almost empty.

1            5            6m            4    1            5            1

I read again between the lines upon the page, the words of love you sent me.

1            5            4    5            3m            6m    2m            5

If I could know within my heart that you were lonely too

1            5            6m            4    1            5                            1    5

I would be happy just to hold the hands I love upon this winter night with you.

1            5            6m            4    1            5            1            5

The fire is dying now, my lamp is growing dim the shades of night are lifting

1            5            6m            4            1            5            1

The mornin' light steals across my windowpane where webs of snow are drifting.

1            5    4            5            3m            6m    2m            5

If I could only have you near to breathe a sigh or two

1            5            6m            4    1            5                            37

I would be happy just to hold the hands I love and to be once again with you

1            5            1

And to be once again with you.
